***

Mircea Handru – Mental Health Board.

The Commissioners discussed some of the issues they have come across in the past weeks and the unfortunate circumstance that the family units are falling apart in the area. The question is how to get to the parents in the community to turn this around. Mircea would like to see collaboration with the drug task force and other groups to help put things back together.

The mental health levy funds have been distributed and there have been many requests filled. Some that are highlighted is Clyde Court's specialized docket. Services at the JJC will be changing some as well. Juvenile court money is going to have to be handled in house instead of through Firelands. They will be receiving a federal grant to help with services at the jail for a counselor.

State level budget has some money that may be coming for additional funding. Mircea did provide his recommendation on how to use the money.
